MERE CURIOSITY.
I wonder if the women's lids, the style for autumn brown, will bear a strong resemblance to a soup bowl upside down?
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Mrs. William Downing, who has been quite ill at her home in the county, has about recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaither will move from Bardstown to Glasgow, where they will teach a private school.

A sight of the multi-millionaire wealth is dumped into the laps of trifling, impudent European snobs styling themselves "noblemen."

A correspondent says: "We noticed our old friends, Marion Young and G. W. Dye, Esq., at the Traveling Men's Banquet at Cincinnati last week.

Our fall stock of snuffings and trunks are all from the celebrated importers, E. H. Van Ingen & Co., New York, is now at its best. All work made in one shop. If you want clothes made to order look over our line of piece goods. D. HECHINGER & Co.

Governor Beckham will retire as Chief Executive official of the Commonwealth in December. For the first time in about 12 years he will be a private citizen, although if elected to the Senate at the coming session of the Legislature he will not take his seat until March, 1909. Therefore, for almost a year he will be out of office.

The oldest Mason in the world, not dead but very much alive, is reported at Mt. Snapee, N. H. The venerable fraternity gent is James Bellows McGregor, who celebrated his 106th birthday September 8th. He has been a member of the Masonic Order for 80 years and is evidently the oldest member of a fraternal organization in the world.

Still Goin' On

Our Great Clearance Sale, We Mean

Vehicles have been selling pretty fast, but not as fast as we would like. We MUST have more room, and, incidentally, more money. It is your own fault if you are not the owner of a nice, new Runabout, Buggy, Driving Wagon or Phaeton. Goodness knows, our prices are low enough. Remember, every job in the house marked to sell for COST.

SPRINGDALE.

Mrs. John Will Tally of Lewis county visited relatives here Thursday.

A great many of our citizens attended the Manchester Fair last week.

Mrs. Ross Thompson came up from Newport and spent a few days with old friends here.

Mr. John Little and his mother, Mrs. C. M. Little of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests of relatives here.

Miss Delta Goodwin, after attending the institute in Maysville came up Friday and will begin the Pleasant Hill School, Monday.

Mrs. Vincent Perkins of Chicago and Miss Perkins of Tollesboro were pleasant guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Degman, Friday.

John Wesley Young is here on a short furlough from the Confederate Home near Louisville, he claims it is the finest home of them all.

Mr. J. T. Goodwin, our popular young mail carrier is improving his vacation by hauling rock and laying a sidewalk in front of his handsome new cottage on Otto street.

Prof. Clifford B. Martin left Saturday for his home in Louisville, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Degman at Maplewood and Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Martin in Fleming county.

Human people are ever anxious to make protest against oppressive cruelty, whether to man or beast. They are always filled with righteous indignation at the patient, long-suffering horse. Last Sunday was an unusually warm day, humidity prevailed. Our citizens were resting on coolest porches or under the trees. Suddenly down the pike and into our quiet town rushed two men in a buggy, one of them was bare-headed and waving his hands and vociferating in a way that plainly showed he was from a place where the lid was off. The indignation however, was produced by the condition of the helpless little sorrel horse they were driving. It was covered with a fly net, but that was unnecessary, as the speed at which they compelled it to go and the continual lashing of the whip would prevent any fly from the remotest chance of alighting on its foaming sides. Its eyes were blinding with fatigue and terror, with a whoop and a "go long there" they wheeled and galloped away toward Maysville, a distance of ten or more miles and the Plumville mountain with its coarse rock on the way. The women wanted to have the heartless couple arrested, but the men as usual, said, "Oh, well, what's the use? Couldn't do anything with them if we did?" Is there any law against such things? If there is, whose duty is it to enforce it.

MARSE HENRY DREAMS A DREAM

Sunday's Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Editor of The Courier-Journal had a dream the other night. He dreamt that he died and was whisked off to the regions below. Old Nick met him at the outer door and extended a most hospitable welcome. "We've been looking and waiting impatiently for you," says he. "Some of the boys were beginning to be afraid that you were not coming, but that they would keep you in the shop above; but I told 'em to cheer up! You see I know that sometimes they take pity on us and send us a good man. Why! your friends 'll be truly delighted."

"Who's here?" was timidly asked.

"They are all here," said Satan. "There's old Grover and John G. Carlisle and Teddy, and—"

"Got any Kentuckians?"

"Plenty of 'em! There's Governor Beckham and Colonel John Whalen and Aaron Kohn and Richard Knott—why, bless you!—when I get tired of whooping 'em up and want a little recreation, I leave Dick in charge, and feel perfectly safe the fire won't go out till I get back."

Then we entered. The place was fitted up elegant—just like the Buckingham Theater, with Summer Garden attachment, which they called the Red City. Lou Simons stood at the gate taking tickets, and when he saw the new-comer he cried, "Hooray," and said, "You pass in free."

It was a fine sight inside. All sorts of people and politics and religions, Democrats and Republicans, and Methodists and Presbyterians and Episcopaliana. From every hough swung a crook, or a thief. Some were marked "Louvillie" and a few "Fusionist."

AILING WOMEN

How Many Perfectly Well Women Do You Know?

MISS GRACE E. MILLER.

"I am not feeling very well." "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "My back aches as though it would break."

How often do you hear these significant expressions from women friends. More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and there is a cause.

More than thirty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. discovered the source of nearly all the suffering endured by her sex. "Woman's Ills," these two words are full of more misery to women than any other two words that can be found in the English language. Sudden fainting, depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere, backaches, headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down sensations, displacements and irregularities are the bane of woman's existence.

The same woman who discovered the cause of all this misery also discovered a remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs holds the record for a greater number of absolute cures of female ills than any other one remedy the world has ever known and it is the greatest blessing which ever came into the lives of suffering women.

Don't try to endure, but cure the cause of all your suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following letters prove this:

"Hero," says Satan, "we reverse the earthly role. We honor perfidy and pharisaism above all things, because they are so energetic and send us so many recruits. Common politicians we string up to dry."

"But, your Satanic Majesty, where is Mayor Birmingham?" was asked.

"Oh," says Satan, "he's a Baptist."

"What has that to do with it?"

"Don't you know," says he, with a kind of awe in his tone, "that the Baptists are a very exclusive congregation and don't like to be mixed up either in their drinks, or their damnation with other denominations? Come with me and I'll show you."

Then he led his wondering visitor through a long, dark, corridor, which he said was called the Vale of Prohibition, to a small, well-lighted vestibule hung round with portraits of Lorenzo Dow and Tom Watson and Hoke Smith and Carrie Nation—"She's a Kentucky girl," he said triumphantly as we passed her—and then he lifted up a trap-door and pointed to a pit blazing with light—"There are the Baptists," he said solemnly, "in close communion."

We looked, and sure enough it was as he said, there they were holding a Long Run Convention, every man of them a red-nosed angel—with Dr. M. P. Hunt presiding, the Reverend Mr. James Van Arsdale in the act of offering a set of resolutions the purport of which ran, "We'll make Kentucky as dry as Hell and Maine."
